Neil Armstrong was an astronaut. He made history on the 20th of July, 1969. He was the first man to walk on the moon! When he stepped on the moon, he said, "That's one small step for a man, one big step for mankind." Millions of people were watching this amazing event on TV. It was fantastic to look up at the moon that night and know that a man was walking around on it! For years, people had wondered if there would be moon creatures living there. But the only things Armstrong found were moon rocks and moon dust.

This text deals with ...

1) sports in a city park.
2) a forest in the middle of a city.
3) a city park that is over 400 years old.
4) a city zoo.
5) children's playgrounds in a park.
6) a park close to the city's main attractions.

A. Hyde Park is one of the largest city parks in the Central London. It was established by Henry VIII who used it as hunting grounds during the 16th century. In the 17th century the park was opened to the public and became hugely popular. The park is probably most famous for its Speakers' Corner, an area for free speech and public debate.

B. Central Park is located in the center of Manhattan in New York City. It is visited by over 40 million visitors each year. It is one of the most filmed locations in the world. Central Park is especially popular with joggers. Most weekend running races take place in the park and it is home to several competitive running clubs. The New York City Marathon finishes in Central Park.

C. St James's Park is a park in London. Although not as talked about as some other parks, St. James's is one of the most beautiful and relaxing green spaces in the capital. There are beautiful gardens, lakes, fountains and birds, as well as plenty of comfortable benches and deck chairs where you can relax and enjoy the stunning views of Buckingham Palace, Big Ben and the London Eye.

D. Forest Park is a public park in downtown Portland, Oregon. It is the largest urban wooded park in the United States which covers more than 5,100 acres of forest. The park is crisscrossed by 70 miles of walking trails, so visitors soon forget that they are still within a busy city. Locals enjoy coming to Forest Park to hike, breathe some fresh air and even go horse-back riding.

E. Regent's Park is an urban park, located in the north-west region of London. Most famously, it is home to the London Zoo, as well as to Regent's University London. The park is especially popular with flower enthusiasts, there are several public gardens with a large variety of flowers and specimen plants. For example, Queen Mary's Garden contains over 30 thousand roses of 400 varieties.
